25 TH ANNIVERSARY

This book is dedicated to Mr. Standley, the principal, the faculty, and the students who are responsible for the growth and continued progress of Tolleston High School.

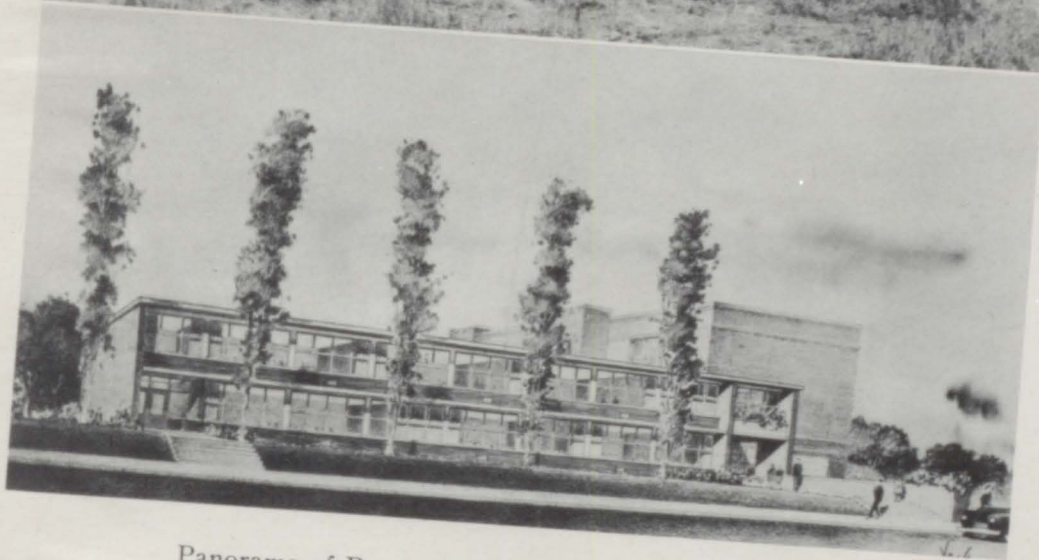

When Father Time tipped the hour glass in 1922, Tolleston was just one small grade school building which housed 281 students. The school grew steadily and eleven years later, as the sands of time reached the 1934 mark, Tolleston organized its first high school class, a sophomore class, which consisted of 124 students. Two years later, in 1936, 89 of these students graduated as Tolleston's first senior class.

As the sands continued to sift through the glass, achievement was recorded through the formation of clubs, the entrance in intramural athletic contests, and the activity of the auditorium department. Tolleston was fast becoming a progressive, well-rounded high school.

In 1947, Father Time discovered the sands in the glass had run out to disclose the twenty-fifth year of the existence of Tolleston School. Therefore, in this school year of 1947 and 1948, Tolleston is celebrating its silver anniversary with a justifiably proud record.

The enrollment has now reached the 1,638 mark with 157 graduating seniors. There are clubs and organizations to suit the interests of every student, and ground will soon be broken for a new addition to the east building.

As you turn the pages of this book, you will see how every phase of Tolleston High School life has progressed and how each club and activity, each student and teacher, has contributed to the cultural, civic, athletic, and educational advancement of Tolleston High School.

Panorama of Progress . . . past, present, and future.

OUR SCHOOL—A DEMOCRACY

What does it takes to make a school? Students, parents, faculty members, and the community make a school. What does it take to make a good school? Good students, good parents, good faculty members, and a good community make a good school.

Who is responsible for maintaining a good school in a democracy? Who is responsible for maintaining any part of a democratic government? The preamble of the constitution starts with the expression, "We the people . . ." What does that expression mean to you?

The expression, "We the people . . .," has no place in the literature of a country unless the government of that country is a democracy. Neither do the words, "We the people . . .," have any place in a democracy unless "We the people" are willing to assume the responsibility necessary to obtain and maintain the privileges and rights we expect.

The practice of granting the privileges to individuals or groups with no responsibilities attached is contrary to the very philosophy of democracy.

The practice of demanding the privileges and rights with little or no interest in assuming responsibilities is also contrary to the philosophy of a democracy.

Can we assume that our privileges and rights in a democracy come to us in proportion to our willingness to assume responsibilities? If we assume this line of reasoning, then a good school in a democracy can be acquired only when all of us assume the responsibilities necessary to obtain and to maintain the standards we wish.

It may mean that "We the people" may need to educate ourselves to sacrifice and assume responsibilities for our conduct and for the conduct of our friends.

The more the students, the parents, and the members of the community work together with the faculty in assuming responsibilities for obtaining and sharing the privileges, the more democratic our organization can be. Then we can call it OUR SCHOOL and OUR COMMUNITY.

It is a pleasure to work with the students, parents, the community, and the faculty of the Tolleston school with this view in mind.

J. W. Standley, Principal
Tolleston High School

Standing: William Stern, Charles Lutz, superintendent. Seated: Dan Krietzman, Rev. Newton Fowler, Mrs. Uno T. Hill.

The Board of School Trustees speaks the final word on all school issues. They hire the teachers, approve the budget, and pay the rental on all films shown at school.

In the planning of Tolleston's new building, the school trustees have played a prominent part by okaying the plans and accepting the bids.

To these people, the Board of School Trustees, Tolleston will be grateful for its school of tomorrow.

BOARD OF SCHOOL TRUSTEES

OFFICE STAFF

Every second Friday—pay day—Miss Barbara Kratkoczki is the woman of the hour . . . Mrs. Dorothy Gaski, custodian of the cash and books, also pursues book rental delinquents.

Miss Bette Bean handles requisitions for anything from a new book to a bolt of satin . . . Miss Elaine Bartkowski types those fateful words "irregular hours absent" on some unfortunates' record.

Mr. Durkle, the searching shepherd, who is always looking for the straying black sheep . . .

. . . Who then are led to Miss Adeline Galkowski, who either gives them the precious blue slip or sentences them to the four o'clock workroom—otherwise known as the Bastille.

These loyal faculty members are living examples of the co-operation and leadership which they teach; whether they're telling the students their ABC's or helping them to decorate the gym.

To the class of '48 has fallen the honor of graduating in Tolleston's twenty-fifth year of existence. The thoughts of these seniors, like the thoughts of others before them, turn from final examinations to senior farewell night, proms, caps and gowns, visions of wedding rings, college degrees, grease paint, or typewriters. Whatever their post graduate plans may be, the class of 1948 will strive to carry out the ideals of progress, co-operation, and democracy.

Mrs. A. S. G. Rotenburg, sponsor; Adeline Marker, editor. The guiding lights!

Elizabeth Emery, publicity, Helen Kuzma, business manager. Female financiers!

The first Tolleston annual consisting of twenty pages and called the "Tattler" was published in 1930. In 1933, the name of the annual was changed appropriately to the "Pioneer" in honor of those settlers who founded one of Gary's oldest communities.

Just as Tolleston has grown from an awkward village to a modern community, so has the "Pioneer" outgrown its embryo stage. To satisfy the needs of the ever-growing school which it represents, the "Pioneer" portrays each phase of student life from academic subjects to extracurricular activities.

TOLLY TIMES

Marian Blokha, reporter; Shirley Jefferson, reporter; Ernest Remenius, artist; Lawrence Burns, reporter; Paul Mohrs, publisher; Barbara Richmond, typist; Alvin Wanthal, co-publisher; Betty Saager, typist; Dorothy Aaron, assistant editor; Dorothy Braun, typist; Vincent Elias, sports; Hans Taub, sports; Valerie MacLeod, editor; Miss Lewis, substitute for sponsor, Miss Anna Marsh.

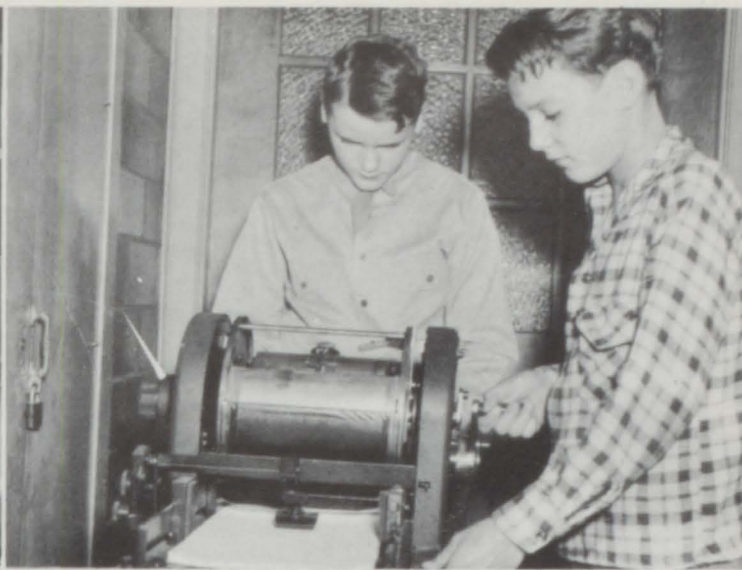

To satisfy a need for keeping the students up-to-date on all the activities in and around school and the latest romantic developments, the TOLLY TIMES, the school newspaper was formed early in 1935, and sold at two cents per copy.

In its infancy the TOLLY TIMES was issued every four weeks and in honor of holidays and feast days.

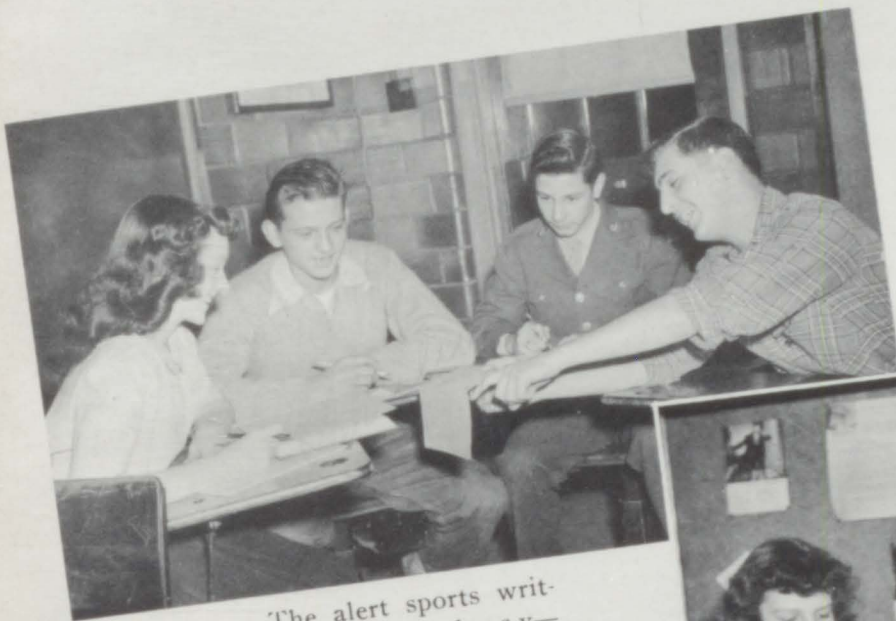

Although the staff labored under a great handicap with the illness of their sponsor, Miss Ann Marsh, they proved they were real news hawks by going right ahead and putting out their regular editions. With the return of Miss Marsh, who has every right to be proud of the newspapermen, the staff is back to normal and has its guns sighted toward a bi-weekly newspaper.

Aah, the stencils finally finished!

The presses roar—TOLLY TIMES will soon be out.

The alert sports writers are very busy—laughing at Hans' joke.

The hardworking typists—you should hear them when they make a mistake!

Here's the funny man who draws the funny pictures—and he has an audience, too!

Will they warn the engineer in time?
Will the cruel orphanage claim the kids? Sounds like a soap opera.

A solemn moment—a rare occasion at rehearsals.

The theatre fever was first evidenced in Tolleston by the formation of the Senior Dramatic Club in March of 1936. When a member of that club had earned fifteen points, he was entitled to belong to the Honorary Dramatics Society.

A few years later the group changed its name to the Honorary Auditorium Group, and the members were known as "Hags." Because this name seemed to be rather undignified, the members now call themselves "The Dramateers."

Membership, and the coveted pin, is open to any senior who has had three or four years of dramatics and has done outstanding work in acting or producing.

This year the Dramateers not only have taken leading roles in "Cinderella" and "You Can't Take It With You" but have also received vocational diplomas in fine arts.

"Slap him down, again, Pa."

The complete casts of "You Can't Take It With You" . . . What a mob!!!

Grease paint, oriental robes, flats, stepladders . . . The Dramateers have been at it for four years and they still love it.

The know-it-alls of the knobs and dials. They show anything from an English classic to a bird's eye view of Mexico.

DRAMATICS

THE THREE FATES . . . No, that isn't Madame Defarge in the corner . . .

Which one's Westmore? Crepe hair plus spirit gum equals a long flowing beard.

DEBATE

Robert Hult, Donald Nedberg, district winner of the Rotary Contest; Patricia Perry, Betty Prescott, Miss Davies, Virgil Moslander.

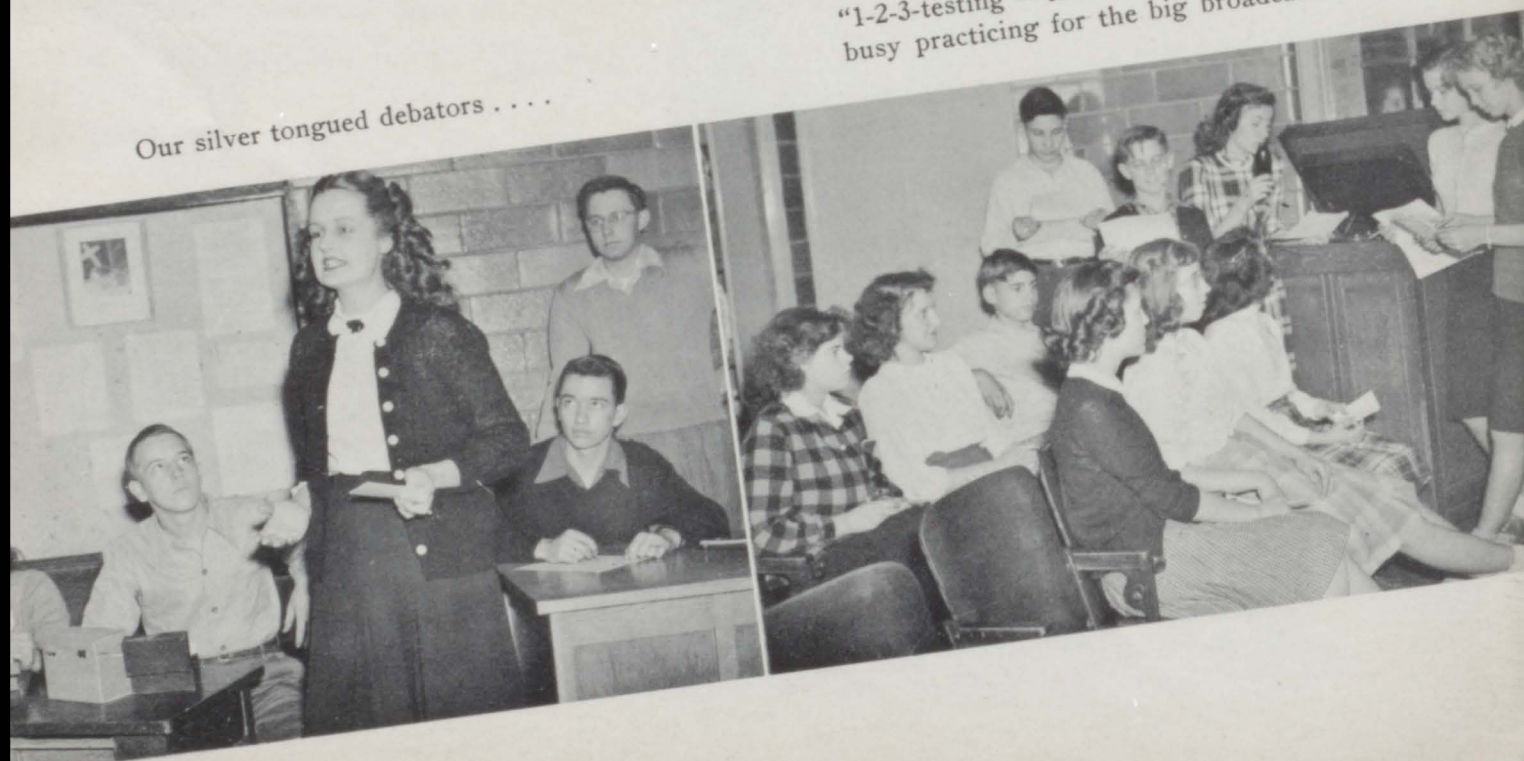

"Resolved, that the federal government should require compulsory arbitration in the settlement of labor disputes in all basic industries."

That was the important question with the debators as they buried their noses in the pages of the "Statistical Abstract" or "The Debators' Manual" or fervently typed rebuttal cards.

Although the debators worked hard, their efforts were well compensated by the winning of first place in the Gary sectionals and a tie with Crown Point for district honors.

Both the Mixed Chorus and the Girls' Glee Club have developed by leaps and bounds under the capable baton of Miss Charlotte Domroese and done a great deal of do-ra-me-ing this year.

Their list of performances included "Marianne," an operetta, a Christmas concert, and an Easter program.

Several of these selections were rendered so capably at the solo and assembly contest that the Tolleston contestants walked off with four of the seven first place awards.

The Cakewalk . . . you lucky boy!

Edwin L. Schroeder
(In Memoriam)

Words cannot express the grief the students felt at the death of Mr. Schroeder. He will always be remembered by the students not only as their respected band master but as their friend and companion.

Tolleston Concert Band's march of progress is one of the prides of Tolleston School. The band has sprung from twenty-seven members in 1934 to seventy-four members in 1948.

This 1948 band has kept right in step in the march of achievement by thrilling the spectators at football games with snappy formations and ultra modern fluorescent lighting effects.

And then there are the twirlers and the major, like Margery Guba, Barbara Wilson, Jean Lach, Evelyn Alley, Henrietta Manoski, and Virgil Moslander, who added color to the band's concerts and parades.

When the band looks this serious, it can

Edmund Bielski
(The new maestro)

After working with Mr. Bielski on marches concert pieces, and solo numbers, the students found in him a true comrade and a fine musician.

"Now, can you put it together, Virg?"

As usual, the band participated in many activities this year. Backing up the band with support and money was the Band Booster Club, which sponsored a cakewalk held in the Tolleston Park.

The profits from the cakewalk were supplemented by the money which the band earned by selling magazine subscriptions. For the excellent sales-manship displayed by the band members, the Curtis Vocational Plan awarded them with a beautiful mahogany plaque.

For the first time in the history of Tolleston, the vocal department shared honors with the band. The combined efforts of the hundred eighty students resulted in a magnificent performance.

Three cheers for the backbone of the band—the Band Booster Club, who makes it possible for us to have uniforms, instruments, and trips like the one to Washington, D. C.

With the exception of several heart-breaking losses at the end of the season, Tolleston's record was a good one. It included the only victory over the city "champs," Roosevelt of Gary. Additional honor was bestowed on our team when seven of its members were chosen to be on the district all star squad.

Although the first cross country team won only two meets while losing 8, it has steadily improved until this year it won 4 meets. With progress such as this, it won't be long until Tolleston has an undefeated cross country team.

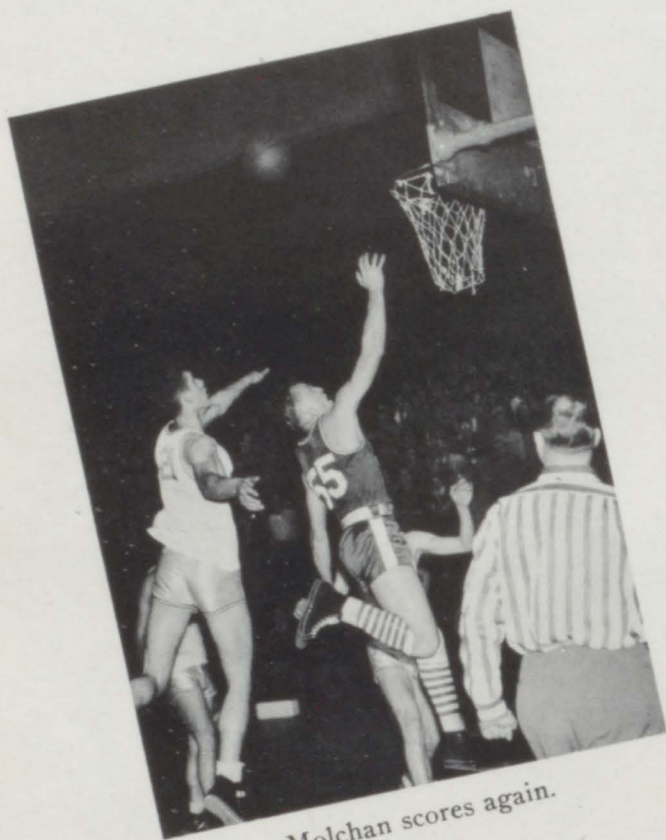

BASKETBALL

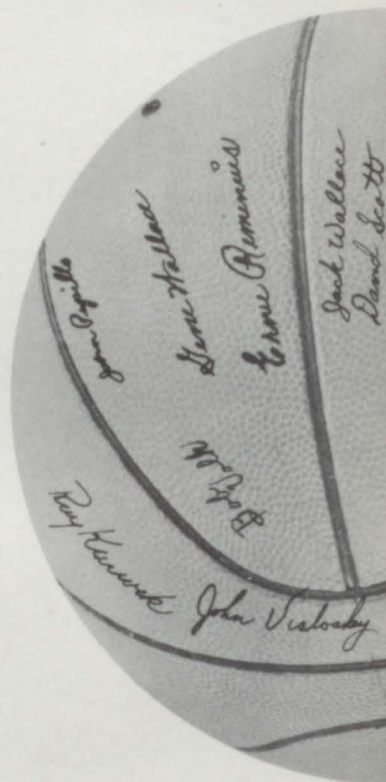

"Grab it, Boys!!"

Compared with Tolleston's first high school basketball team, this 1948 season has been a successful one for Tolleston. The team of '35 won its first game over Hammond Clark by the score of 19-11, but finished the season with 8 wins and 18 losses. Like our first basketball season, this season of '48 was also marked with its ups and downs.

BASEBALL

Baseball is a fairly young sport at Tolleston, the first team having been organized in 1941. Their record of 6 wins and 8 losses included a victory over the conference "Champs".

Steady improvement has been noticed in the baseball team, with last year's squad coming up with some of the best baseball in Tolleston's history.

The Spanish Club, under the faculty leadership of Mrs. Elsie Wendt, was organized in 1935. Developing leadership, increasing interest in the Spanish language, understanding the customs and geography of Spain, and affording recreation were and are the purposes of the Spanish Club.

Our Espanoles have had a great deal of fun this year fulfilling the aims of their club. They started the year with an invitation which almost did away with the initiates. At Christmas time there was a pinata which held all the pretty gifts that the members had brought for each other. Then, as finishing touch to a successful year, came the gala event—the fiesta—in true Spanish tradition.

Shelling it out

The "Latina Sodalitas" first organized in 1934, has aimed at understanding the practical and cultural value of Latin. This year the Latin Club, with Mrs. Jeffries as sponsor was very active. When the members weren't marching through Gaul with Caesar, conjugating verbs, or fortifying room 301 with catapults or battering rams; they were planning their initiation party Christmas dance, or Valentine box social. In March the members of the club attended the Latin Club conference where they presented a skit in which the students traded places with the Roman gods.

Because the junior and senior girls felt a need for a club in which they could discuss their problems, compare notes on the latest fashions an boy friends, and have a few good "hen" parties, the Girls' Club was organized in the fall of 1945, with Miss Ann Shirley Gray as sponsor.

Carrying out the requests of the girls this present year were Dr. Kopcha, who delivered an illuminating talk on life and love; and Miss Cash, who gave a demonstrated lecture on the use of cosmetics.

The social angle or "hen" party was taken care of adequately at an Italian dinner as the girls attempted to manipulate lengthy strands of spaghetti.

In the fall of 1939, the efforts of the Tolleston community and the school athletic department were rewarded by the establishment of Tolleston High School's first R.O.T.C. unit. The military training thus offered the boys has been a large factor in developing the qualities of good leadership and good citizenship. The Tolleston unit has lived up to the expectations of the school and community by placing eleventh from forty schools in the second Army Rifle match, placing first in the Hearst Trophy match and first in Gary's federal inspection.
